Article 5. Challenge Registration

To register for the challenge, the player must consult the registration offer available on the "Toornament" platform and register. Participation becomes final only after validation of the registration by the Organizer.

For this challenge, a team of at least 5 players must be formed. A captain must be designated in each of the teams (hereafter, the "Captain"). This Captain must be the player holding the account with the email address of the main contact email of the team on the platform "Toornament".

The Captain of each team is responsible for the registration of the players of his team at the stages of the Challenge on Toornament and for entering the personal information corresponding to each player of his team which he certifies as accurate and adequate.

The number of teams registering for the challenge will be subject to a limit (see article 5), registration requests will be accepted by the Organizer according to the following rule:

"First come, first served. That is to say that registrations will be validated in chronological order according to the date of application.

However, the Organizer reserves the right to register teams with the status of "guests" without taking into account the rule previously stated. The number of such teams may vary. However, no team that has already been validated by the Organizer may be deregistered in favor of any other team, even in favor of a "guest" team.

The information required at the time of registration is necessary for the Organizer to enable the smooth running of the Challenge and to verify compliance with the eligibility conditions.

The Organizer reserves the right to verify by any means the accuracy of the information provided by the player and necessary to validate his participation in the Challenge, including his identity, the ownership of his Game account or his Toornament account.

If no substitute has been registered beforehand, a request to a tournament administrator may be made subject to the acceptance of this referee and provided that the request is made at least 30 min before the match and that the player is of the same level or lower than the player being replaced.

We remind you that League of Legends accounts are strictly personal accounts, therefore, each player will be associated to his game account, any person caught cheating, playing on another person's account, will be immediately sanctioned and will penalize his team with a defeat with immediate effect or a disciplinary sanction in accordance with the sanctions in force in the rules.

Article 6. Challenge Format

The challenge consists of 2 stages: the "qualification phase", itself composed of 32 teams and the "final phase". The maximum number of teams per qualifying pool is 4 teams. The Organizer reserves the right, at its own discretion, to change the number of teams that can register. The modification will be directly indicated on the stage information page on the "Toornament" platform.

1) "Qualification Phase".

The qualification phase consists of 8 pools corresponding to independent tournaments and meeting the following criteria:

- 4 teams
- Single elimination shaft
- No designation of 2nd, 3rd and 4th places
- All the rounds are played in BO1.
- If there is a tie for first place, a Tie-break will be set up to break the tie.

- Double elimination shaft
- Designation of 3rd place

Article 7. Match Settings

1. Creation of the Part, definition of the Side and Draft procedure

A. Creation of the Party

Both teams must be ready and complete at their posts at the start time (announced by a Challenge Administrator).

Games played during the competition will be accessible via a tournament code available on Toornament. In case of any problem upon receipt of the code, please contact an administrator.

Tournament codes are configured with the following settings :

- Region: Western Europe
- Map: Summoner's Rift
- Type of Draft: Tournament Draft
- Spectator: All

B. Definition of the Side and Draft procedure

The "sides" are decided as follows: The team that appears at the top in the tournament tree will be on the left side in the living room. This side corresponds to the "Blue Side" once in the game. Conversely, the team at the bottom of the tournament tree will be on the right side of the living room. This side is the "Red Side" once in the game.

Each qualifier is played on the patch in progress at the date of the qualifier on the live servers with the system of 10 competitive "bans" (5 per team).

In the case of a "remake" following a problem during the draft phase, the draft will resume in the state it was in at the moment before the problem occurred.

Each team can "remake" a maximum of 1 time per game during the draft phase in case of an error and each game can be remaked 1 time for each team in case of a problem during the loading screen (for example, error in runes or summoner spells).

The "remake" of a draft phase or a game during the loading screen or during the game is however subject to the approval of the Challenge administrators and subject to good faith on the part of the participants.

In order to simplify the draft phases and the streaming potential of your match, the placeholders are mandatory either toplane in first pick, jungle in second pick etc... ending with the role of support. However, if there is a concern about the availability of champions for certain players, it is possible to use a third party site such as "ProDraft" to make the draft of the match. The team wishing to use "ProDraft" will have to make a request to the opposing team. A spectator link will then have to be provided to the streaming if there is a cast.

2. End of game procedure

In some cases, Directors may end an inning or game before its conclusion. Typical causes for such decisions include logistical problems (postponement of the game, end time of the event reached, etc ...). The administrator should use the following method to determine the winners of the match when the normal conclusion of the inning is not possible:

- A team with a very large advantage in the game (difference in "gold", buildings destroyed, dragons killed, Barons Nashor killed, opponents dead, etc ...).

If it is impossible to define a very large advantage in favor of a team according to the criteria, the administrator may decide to start the game again.

Article 8. Communication with Coaches

Players may communicate with their Coaches at any time except during a game.

It is therefore allowed to communicate with his Coach during the draft phase.

Article 9. Directors of the Challenge

The Organizer designates one or more Challenge administrators in charge of managing the Challenge. This information is communicated by any means by the Organizer and in particular on the Toornament page of the stages (qualifiers or final phase). The Administrators will be responsible for ensuring that the Challenge takes place in accordance with the rules laid down (hereinafter referred to as the "Administrators").

Article 10. Match Results

In order to avoid any dispute, the following measures should be taken:

At the end of a match, the Captain of each team must communicate to the Organizer, the result of the match and each inning, attaching any useful evidence to avoid possible claims such as screenshots or video recordings in the appropriate channel on the Discord dedicated to the tournament.

The results are to be transmitted as soon as possible to a Director and within a reasonable period of time. Administrators enter the results on the "Toornament" platform as soon as they receive the information from the Team Captains.

In case of disputes, screenshots or video evidence will be requested by the Organizer. In the event of impossibility to detect the true of the false, the Organizer will be able to decide to start again the part or to take any other decision.

Any dispute must be declared as soon as it arises and not after the party is finished.

Example: In case you notice that the opposing team selects a champion who has been banned from the stage or Challenge, you must report this to an Administrator no later than the start of the game. In the event that the report is made too late according to common sense (especially during the game or after the end of the game), the Administrator will not be required to sanction the offending team.

Article 11. Decisions of the Organizer

The Organizer and the Administrators are solely competent to take any measure necessary for the smooth running of the Challenge, including modifying the format of the Challenge, adapting the code of conduct or taking disciplinary action against Participants who have violated the code of conduct or who have adopted harmful behaviour towards other Participants, the Organizer, the Administrators or third parties in general.

The decisions taken by the Organizer during the Challenge are immediately applicable and binding on the Participants.

Article 12. Disconnections and Breaks

1. Creation of the Party and Draft procedure

A. In-Match Disconnections

Each disconnection must be reported to an Administrator. Players can pause when a player from one of the two teams is missing.

In a rematch, teams must keep the same champions as well as the same skills and runes. No substitute player can be designated in case of impossibility to reconnect a player.

B. General

In case of voluntary disconnection of a Participant, the match (including the current inning and the other inning already played or not) is considered lost by the Participant in question as well as for his or her team.

2. Breaks

Players are allowed to take a break as part of their scheduled break time per round. During any break or stoppage of play, players are not allowed to leave the game unless they have been officially allowed to do so.

- Directed Break: An administrator may pause an inning at his or her discretion - Team Break: Each team has a break of a total of ten (10) minutes that may be used during a game for the following reasons :

- Unintentional disconnection
- A hardware or software malfunction (software or peripheral problems, problems with gambling, connection problems)

In certain extraordinary circumstances, players may ask the Administrators for an additional break when five minutes have elapsed. In this case, the team must alert an Administrator and will be required to resume play after the ten minute break has expired until the Administrator decides whether or not to accept an additional break. At this point, whether or not to grant a break is at the Administrator's discretion. If the official decides that a break cannot resolve the issue within a reasonable period of time, the team must continue to play.

- Resuming the break: both teams must have specified that they are ready before restarting the game as soon as possible.
- Unauthorized break: if a player initiates or ends a break without permission outside of his allowed break time, or if he does not resume the game within the time limit, he may be sanctioned in accordance with the Challenge rules.
- Player communication during stoppages: Players are allowed to discuss the inning or strategy with their teammates during a break. No communication with the coach is allowed during the break.
